

June 2006

At Forensic Damage Consultants

This month started preparation for the new, New York State Existing Building Codes. These are to be adopted in January 2007, Len Paradise Sr. Certified Restorer #94 CMRS attended a 16 hour class through the Office of Fire Prevention on the new codes. They are the IEBC codes, with of course, NYS's additions and deletions. For those working in NYS we will loose the two classifications the alleviated the need to perform much of the code upgrade work for fire suppression, accessibility and detection.

We have recently completed several large Katrina losses including 300 unit apartment complex in the heavy flood zone 4 Million plus.

We also completed our portion on several retail chain losses in the gulf coast area. One included twenty stores with a Public Adjuster on the loss. Another included 10 stores completely destroyed by flood. We are still involved with a oil support facility company with multiple location through out the coast that sustained major damage to many of their coastal facilities.

